Foreword

DUGDALE BROS & CO.

“With pride, with passion, with integrity”

The Dugdale story began in 1896 when brothers Henry and Frederick established a business as Wholesale Woollen and Trimming Warehousemen. Based in the heart of Huddersfield, it became the prime cloth and trimmings merchant for the industrial heartland of the North of England and the Midlands. At the centre of the world's worsted cloth industry, the West Yorkshire town was teeming with bespoke tailors, whose services were in high demand in this golden age before the advent of ready-to-wear clothing. As a result, the Dugdale business grew rapidly and relocated to The Towers in 1906, where it continues to thrive.

My own family heritage spans three of the six centuries of wool and cloth making in Huddersfield, so I am immensely proud to be continuing the tradition into a fourth generation as Director and Chairman of Dugdale Bros. Having been educated extensively in all areas of cloth production, from shearing and wool-sorting in Australia, through to spinning, weaving and finishing in my home town, I'm delighted to bring my affinity for the industry to the helm of such a prestigious cloth house. Instrumental in reinvigorating the Dugdale name is our MD Simon Glendenning, who has a wealth of experience in developing British heritage brands. It is the very regard for provenance and drive for innovation that we are harnessing to spread the word of Dugdale Bros as a boutique, world-renowned cloth brand. In a time when so many merchants are being acquired by larger corporations, we remain defiantly independent and still proudly prosper in the place where it all began.

Staying true to our origins, but building momentum to propel our brand forwards, the motto of our founders Henry and Frederick Dugdale has never rung more true:

With pride, with passion, with integrity - Robert Charnock, Director & Chairman

About Dugdale Bros & Co.

LET US INTRODUCE OURSELVES...

Fiercely independent and proudly British, Dugdale Bros is the last cloth merchant remaining in the centre of Huddersfield – the town that created worsted.

While the Dugdale story began over 120 years ago, the narrative is still unfolding. Now, well into the 21st century, we're looking forward to our next chapter, and will continue to keep one eye on our heritage as we move into the future. My early career as a wine shipper and merchant has instilled within me a respect for origin that I've carried into the world of cloth. Just as wine is distinguishable by grape variety and 'goût de terroir', textiles from Huddersfield's prestigious mills are truly inimitable in their composition and craftsmanship.

“

CENTRE OF CLOTH MAKING SINCE 1896

The past few years have seen us expanding our reach into global markets, and we hope to continue supplying the finest quality cloths to tailors and couturiers across the world. With distributors throughout Europe, Southeast Asia and as far afield as Australia, our 'Made in Huddersfield, England' label has deservedly become a distinctive hallmark for quality.

Premium Quality

OUR COLLECTIONS

Whether we are presenting couturiers and tailors with our own woollen and worsted textiles, produced within ten miles of our Huddersfield home, or carefully sourced speciality cloths from our cotton and linen collections, we use only premium-quality fabrics from benchmark suppliers.

We house a vast array of collections, varying from the cloths that first helped to establish the Dugdale Bros name, to the newer, more innovative ranges that continue to transform expectations of what we have to offer. We take immense pride in our history and traditions, and love that the slightly eccentric nature of the Dugdale brand shines through in our more daring collections – always with the same premium-grade quality our customers have come to expect.

ROYAL CLASSIC

A traditional medium-weight cloth crafted with superfine Australian merino wool.

This has been our best-selling collection since its introduction in 1957. With a wonderfully tight weave, optimum sett and clear-cut and crushed finishes, this is a highly durable, functional collection that is ideal for everyday wear garments. 2017 sees the first adaptation being made to the bunch since 1987, with around thirty patterns drawn directly from the original archive being added.

ENGLISH & TOWN CLASSICS

Two collections combined into one.

This bunch is the winter-weight version of our Royal Classics range and has been in continual production since its launch in 1953. Woven from superfine Australian merino wool, a choice of crushed, semi-milled or full-milled finishing provides further distinction to the warmth and fullness of this premium-grade cloth.

Our Collections

NEW FINE WORSTED

This delightfully cool wool cloth is crafted from Australian merino in our classic and unique plain weave construction.

The uptwisted yarn and open weave affords a high degree of breathability, while the high premium finish allows for excellent crease recovery, it is potentially the original 'travel suit' cloth.

This range is recognised by tailors globally and was originally used for the iconic cream uniforms in Singapore's prestigious Raffles Hotel.

Our Collections

THE WHITE ROSE CALDONAIRE TWEED & CAVALRY TWILL

Providing warmth without extra weight.

This tweed bunch mixes an array of herringbone designs in a variety of pastel and bold colours. Versatile and hardwearing, the twill was traditionally used for riding breeches as it holds its shape extremely well and remains associated with British Cavalry officers today. With its defined texture, it can be used to tailor trousers or a very distinctive suit, while the heavy-weight version is often used for overcoats and other outdoor wear.

THE WHITE ROSE CORDUROY & MOLESKIN

Soft casual wear for town and country.

In corduroy the distinctive ribs, which are referred to as 'wales', are measured by the number of ribs per linear inch. It is the small amount of elastane combined with the cotton cloth that gives the corduroy its stretch. Renowned for its tactile finish and durability, the 100% cotton moleskin is a versatile cloth and is suitable for most types of tailoring. Soft to the touch yet hard-wearing, this popular collection is available in nine colours.

Our Collections

WHITE ROSE SPORTING TWEED & TATTERSALL

A collection true to our roots.

The British wool is locally spun at Lightowlers of Huddersfield, then woven and finished to create this distinctly Yorkshire tweed. The influence of the surrounding Pennines is apparent in the melange of green, brown and soft warm hues that are woven into this robust yet attractive cloth.

The signature Tattersall checks are continually chosen by tailors for creating the most traditional country vestings of any range on the market.
